

Use of renewable sources

The city offers many possibilities for the deployment of renewable sources; roofs can be provided with solar collectors, heat can be extracted from drinking water and small wind turbines can be installed.